CATHEDRAL NOTES.

Collector Greenwald of the Salt Lake custom house received a week ago advice of the shipment from San Francisco to this city, eighty-seven cases of marble and statuary for St. Mary's cathedral, for the great altars to be erected in the new edifice. The marble is from the Carrara quarries in Italy, and came by way of ship around the Horn, at much less cost than by rail shipment across the American continent. The duty on the marble is $4,250.91, but the collector is in correspondence with the treasury department to have this duty remitted allowing the marble and statuary entrance to this country free. The collector says this has been done in the case of churches before, and he has no doubt but that the custom of remittance of duties will be observed in this case also. The altar is the gift of Miss Frances O'Meara of Nevada.

Miss Margaret Mulvey and Miss Ella Bogan are the ladies appointed to attend to the altars this week.

The Junior choir will have rehearsal on Saturday at 2 o'clock.

The St. Cecilia chorus will practice Sunday at 9:30.

Miss Florence O'Neil and Miss May O'Neil will sing "Ave Maria" by St. Hache, at the 11 o'clock mass on Sunday.

Miss Ruby Daniels will be the soloist at Vespers on Sunday night.

The Misses Myrtle and Evelyn Kelly have again joined the Junior choir, after an absence of three months. They are charming little girls, Myrtle being the younger girl who made such a "hit" in the "Crystal Sings" given by Mr. Augustini last spring.

Regular mass was celebrated on Tuesday for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Julia MacFadden, the offering of the Altar society.

During this month the Rosary devotion is said every evening at 7:30. On Wednesday and Friday, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament is given.

Rev. Father Andrew Ryan will celebrate mass in Bingham next Sunday.

Services will be held at the Utah state penitentiary next Sunday. Miss Grace Sullivan will have charge of the music, as the regular organist must attend the McAleer funeral.

St. Mary's Cathedral Organ to Be Dedicated.

Early next month the new organ of St. Mary's cathedral will be dedicated at a grand sacred concert. Curran, soprano soloist, Willard Webb, violinist, Mr. Edward McGurkin, harpist, M. J. Brines, tenor, and Mrs. P. L. Hamilton of Pocatello, Idaho, mezzo-soprano, will appear. Of the four eminent singers who are to give the first Orpheus club concert next Monday night, Campanari is probably the most gifted by nature.

For years he was, or thought himself, only a "cellist," and after his voice was discovered he never took a singing lesson in his life. Instead, he began the study of the different Italian operas, and made his debut as a vocalist at the age of 19 in the La Scala opera house, where for two years he had been the leading "cellist." His life since then has been devoted to his art, and he has been known since that time as Campanari, the singer, not Campanari, the cellist, although gifted in that way, too.

Ku Klux Klan Drama in Sight.

Enjoying the prestige of four seasons of uninterrupted success, "The Clausman" will pay its first visit to this city in the near future at the Salt Lake theatre. This is an attraction that has been long awaited, and in point of popularity and interest outranks all the other traveling companies of the presidential year. The play is especially notable for its vivid picture of the Ku Klux Klan, an organization of southerners that restored white supremacy to the south after the civil war.

Richard J. Jose.

The present tour of the Richard J. Jose company, which appears at the Salt Lake theatre for three nights and one matinee, commencing next Thursday, has practically covered the state of California and Nevada, but nothing but words of praise come from all sections for both players and singers.

Jose is so well and favorably known to all throughout America that comment is unnecessary; suffice to say that his long experience and unbounded success has placed him on a plane where the best is none too good for the public, and it is with this end in view that he has taken every possible pains in securing the play he now presents, entitled "Don't Tell My Wife," and the sixteen comedy artists for its finished production.

It is purely a farce comedy, but without the usual exaggerations and tucable in this case of productions, and contains a cleverly constructed, coherent plot, full of wit, humor and laughable situations.

Rev. Father Andrew Ryan will celebrate mass here on Sunday.

Mrs. Anna McGuire returned from Salt Lake Thursday, after a brief stay at the capital.

Miss Genevieve Brooks, teacher of the primary grade at Upper Bingham, took in the state fair in Salt Lake Thursday. Mrs. C. A. Inlow substituted in her absence.

SECURITY THAT SECURES.

Perhaps you are now putting your surplus earnings in the savings bank and receiving from the bank 4 per cent interest per annum.

The bank, in turn, invests or loans your money on real estate security, charging a higher rate of interest than they pay you.

Why keep on dividing the earning power of your money with the bank when you can invest your own money in the same security and retain all it earns for yourself, by purchasing shares of the Mutual Realty company, whose stock will pay several times the rate you are now getting, and your money will be secured by the same security, viz., income-producing property.

The best security on earth—THE EARTH ITSELF.

Write or call on the secretary, C. E. Raybould, 524 Security & Trust building, and let him demonstrate this fact to you.

A True Prophet.

Short—Yes, I believe some fortune tellers are on the level. Not long ago one agreed to tell me something about my future for a dollar.

Long—Well?

"I gave her the money and she told me the time would come when I would wish I had my dollar back."

Manners bring together or separate men by a force more invincible than that of opinions. I would almost say than by that of sentiment—Mme. De Staël.

The rooms were decorated with palms, ferns, roses and ivy. The bride was attended by Miss Claudine Jones and Miss May Alder. C. D. Schettler was best man. The ceremony was followed by a reception to about fifty friends. The bridal party was assisted in receiving by Mrs. George D. Alder, Mrs. C. D. Schettler and Mrs. George Burton. Mr. and Mrs. Alder will soon be at home to their friends in their new residence. Mrs. Westling is a charming young girl, who has many friends. Is not the word "home" the dearest of all? Nations may differ in customs, religions and languages, but the love of this one thought establishes a kinship throughout the world.

Within it dwells the hope of youth, the pride of manhood, and the peace of declining years. It is the birthright of every child and the aim of every parent.

We build houses of such solidity, attractiveness and surroundings as give to the word "home" its fullest expression.

Our representatives will gladly answer questions and fully explain our plan by which you may live in your own home while paying for it, and after final payment you own your home and have saved a great deal for yourself instead of your landlord.

No Regrets.

(New York Tribune.)

If the accident to that notorious and offensive exponent of contempt for law and human life, the reckless "scorcher" Thomas, put him out of the business of running over people in his mad career, the general public will view the suffering which teaches him a little sense with considerable equanimity.

The Ruling Passion—"Haven't you any purpose in life?" asked the minister of the melancholy druggist.

"No," sighed the druggist, "but I've something just as good."

To My Piano.

I tell you all the things I know, My tender weal, my silent woe; I tell you all my doubts and fears, To you alone I give my tears.

And bring my ever grief at hand, Because you seem to understand, You tell me everything I feel, My dreams, my hopes, you make them real.

I laugh to you and you are glad, I cry to you and you are sad; With all the world I must needs smile And laugh to hide a tear the while.

With you I tell the music aside, And pour my saddened heartstrings wide.

Tell all I wish and dare to do, Ay, breathe my very soul to you. You tell me how to live, how to food Adapted to my every mood; I press your keys so lovingly, And feel a thrill of sympathy.

You speak to me, the world is mine, Thro' you I tell the music mine.

—Maude E. Peters in The Music World.

S. A. Maginnis, son of Judge W. S. Maginnis, together with Martin Burns of Detroit, Mich., passed a very brilliant examination for admittance to the bar of the state of Utah on last Saturday, and were qualified to practice before the supreme court. Both young men are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

The Knights of Columbus held a very successful social in their hall last Friday evening. Dancing and cards were indulged in, the music being rendered by Short's orchestra. An enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Miss Stella Murray of Evanston, Wyo., was an Ogden visitor Sunday.

Mrs. Cannon, mother of Senator Frank J. Cannon, spent Monday in Ogden, the guest of her son.

Senator Reed Smoot passed Monday the guest of Ogden friends.

Mrs. W. L. Maginnis and Mrs. A. E. Heywood were Salt Lake visitors last week.

Sacred Heart Academy.

Sacred Heart Academy.

With the approach of cool weather the students were delighted to have the musical culture classes reorganized. A change of days was found necessary so as to avoid conflicting duties, and hereafter Mondays and Thursdays will find the seniors, juniors and some favored ninth grade at work under the capable direction of their amiable directress, Mrs. Belle S. Ross.

Many members of the class of '98 are already wishing they were again school girls, and some are pursuing special courses at various colleges.

Miss Trapp at the Pocatello academy, where she is devoting much time to domestic science. Miss Gledhill in Salt Lake, taking a business course, while Miss O'Neil and Miss McCarty are mastering the intricacies of stenography. All keep in touch with their alma mater and frequent letters attest their devotion to old friends.

Even old John Burroughs would be gratified could he see some Sacred Heart pupils deep in the delights of nature study. The classes for this interesting branch were formed during the past week, and we are confident that some will observe beauties which before passed unnoticed. The time for work could not have been chosen better, for nature seems in her most inviting mood, with her attractive colors and her many changing leaves.

Most welcome to the Sacred Heart during the week were Rev. Andrew Morrissey, C. S. C., provincial of Holy Cross Order, and Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of Notre Dame university. Both distinguished clergymen were en route to San Francisco to help do honor to Archbishop Riordan on the occasion of his jubilee, and show their special regard for the distinguished prelate whom Notre Dame is proud to claim as her worthy son. Father Morrissey has visited Sacred Heart on previous occasions, but the first impression of our great west made upon Father Cavanaugh was an exceedingly agreeable one. He expressed himself as much pleased with this growing country, and was charmed with Sacred Heart academy in particular.

If we were to do ourselves as we do others our advance in wisdom's ways would be rapid and conclusive.
